

Soda Pop Trumpet

as seen on the Maestro Classics website!

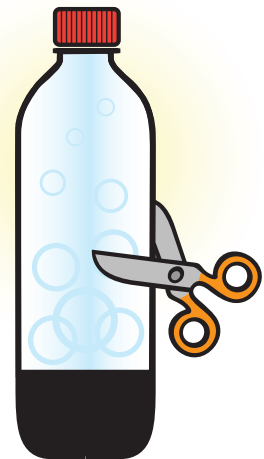

If you have ever played a kazoo, you know how much fun it can be. Now you can make a family's worth of kazoo-like trumpets and recycle your used plastic soda bottles at the same time.

Gather your supplies:

- Plastic bottles of different sizes
- Sharp scissors (and maybe an adult to help)

Make your trumpet:

Cut the different bottles in half at different places. Purse your lips and make a "buzz" sound while gently pressing the spout of the bottle against your lips. Begin to hum a tune. Gather some friends, pick a song, play together and have fun! If anyone you know plays the trumpet, they can play along too!

P.S. This is a great birthday party activity!
